

Storyboard

By Jamius Cheatham

This is Phillip O'Malley. Phillip is your regular, all knowing and ordinary Family Guy. Every day is the same routine for Phillip. He goes to work, gets into some shenanigans with his family, occasional fights with a chicken, and ends the day at the Drunken clam with his boys

One day, while at the bar with his boys, he got into a burst of tears. Most likely one of those mid-life crisis. He got into a huge sob story about his life is meaningless and everyday has been the same for the last decade. Same old same old and he's tired of it

While at the Clam, a couple of Phillip friends show him an app. This app would cure Phillips mid life crisis as it would make decisions for him. It would be the perfect tool to spice up his life and break the cycle of everyday being the same

Ever since Phillip downloaded the Decision-making app by Mod Decisive, he has been happy. His life is now not the same thing every single day. Everyday is a new adventure for Phillip and he enjoys that.

Although his days are now different, some things just won't go away....